One of the largest independent furnace men, head of one of the biggest iron brokerage firms in Pittsburg, said: "Of course I cannot be quoted; I never am. It would spoil excepting. But the market conditions at present are very satisfactory. There is an enormous tonnage being turned out just now, and especially of pig iron, which, as you know, is at low price. The demand is greater than it has been for some time and orders are coming in very some time and orders are coming in very rapidly, so that prices are beginning to stiffer. It is too early, however, to make any predictions for the coming year. Wait a few days and see whether this business increase will be permanent, whether it is not just a flash in the pan. I hope that it is not, but I would not care to make any predictions based on present business.

Notwithstanding this it is rumored that a general advance in prices will shortly be made if it has not already been decided upon in some quarters. There was a meeting of the board of directors of the Carnegie Steel Company Vesterday and there was much gossin vesterday and there was much gossip of a price advance. Mr. Dinkey, however, would not discuss the matter, saying that he could not be quoted, nor had the Car-negie company any official who was at liberty to give out any information what

The net surplus of idle cars stood at 23,000 at the end of the week. The number is exceptionally small for a season in which the crops have moved so rapidly to market and provides another argument for pur chases of equipment. Two new equipment orders were announced yesterday Island closed contracts for 675 cars and is in the market for 600 more, and Norfolk and Southern placed an order for 500 cars.
